Risk & Reward Profile

About the indicator: The synthetic risk/reward indicator shows the relationship between risk and potential reward at an investment in the Sub-Fund. The synthetic indicator is based on the fluctuations in the Sub-Fund's value over the past five years. Where a full returns history is unavailable the indicator is based on relevant benchmark.

About the Sub-Fund: The Sub-Fund belongs to category 5. This means that the Sub-Fund is subject to medium risk in respect of rises and falls in value. Category 1 does not mean that the Sub-Fund is a risk-free investment. The Sub-Fund may over time shift to both the right and the left side of the scale. It is because the synthetic indicator is based on historical data which is not a guarantee for future risk/reward.

The fund invests primarily in various types of interest-bearing assets issued by issuers that are active in markets that are generally characterized by high risk, but also the possibility of high returns. The indicator primarily reflects ups and downs in the shares in which the fund invests.

Risks not captured by the indicator: Investors in the Sub-Fund need to take the following risk factors into particular consideration:

Credit risk - The Sub-Fund may invest a part of its assets in debt securities issued by governments or companies. The issuers of these debt securities may become insolvent which may result in the partial or full loss of the value of their debt securities.

Currency markets risk - The Sub-Fund is investing its assets in the international currency markets and is therefore exposed both to the increased opportunity and the increased risk of loss resulting from changes in exchange rates.

Derivatives risk - The value of financial derivative instruments can be volatile and may result in losses in excess of the amount invested by the Sub-Fund. The use of derivatives for hedging purposes may not be effective and can restrict potential gains.

Liquidity risk - The risk that the Sub-Fund may not be able to timely liquidate its holdings at a reasonable price.

Frontier Markets risk - Investments in non-developed countries are exposed to certain risks such as political uncertainty, settlement risks, accounting standards risks, illiquidity of investments and sudden exchange rates movements.

Interest rate risk - The value of the Sub-Funds investments will be affected by changes, and shifting expectations, in interest rates in countries where it is invested.

The above mentioned list of risk factors is not exhaustive. Other factors can influence the pricing of the underlying securities and therefore this Sub-Fund.
